

National Weather Service
Southeast River Forecast Center

There is currently no Hydrologic Vulnerability Assessment (HVA) in effect.

HVA's are issued during active hydrometeorological events such as inland-moving Tropical storms or Hurricanes. This product is used to convey important information regarding the potential for excessive rainfall or flooding.